Grant Of $85,000 Awarded To Library

Gov. Julian Carroll has announced that Calloway County is scheduled to receive an $85,000 state grant. According to Charles Hinds, director of the state Department of Library and Archives, the funds are to be used for expansion and renovation of the Calloway County Public Library.

Gov. Carroll in approving the grant for Calloway County Public Library said, "This investment is one of the soundest that can be made in these difficult times because it is an investment in knowledge and, consequently, an investment in the future."

Hinds is expected to be in Murray later this week to present the check to the Calloway library board.

Hardy Kelso Home Destroyed By Fire Late Saturday Night

The home of Hardy Kelso, south of Lynn Grove, was completely destroyed by fire late Saturday night, as well as two automobiles at the residence.

Officials of the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Unit said the cause and origin of the blaze was not known. No one was at home at the time of the fire.

The call came at about 11:30 p. m. Saturday. The contents of the home and 1972 and 1966 model automobiles were destroyed in the fire.

Personnel answering the alarm were Bernard Stein, Bill Marcum, Charles Tubbs, Bud

Miller, Jim Biffle, Mike Farley, Jerry Downey, Tom Lyles, Jim Johnson, Max Dowdy, Dale Bogard, Robert Trenholm, Roger Hughes, Carl Hosford, Marvin Weatherford, Jerry Edwards, Randy Linn, and Larry Warren.

The rescue squad also answered a call Friday at one P. m. at the home of Rex Camp, 1001 Johnny Robertson Road. Rescue squad officials said the fire was in a ladies sportswear shop behind the home. Minor damage was reported, and the cause of the fire was a short in a light fixture.

Three units and 12 members answered the call.

Bentsen Is Fifth Demo Presidential Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., a wealthy Texan with more money than tangible political support, today became the fifth formal entrant into the 1976 Democratic presidential race.

"The paramount issue is economic recovery," Bentsen said, declaring he would offer his party and the nation "leadership which is at once candid, unafraid and positive."

Bentsen formally unveiled his candidacy at a news conference and reception in Washington before flying to Houston, Tex., for a second news conference and reception.

In making official his campaign plans that had been obvious for months, Bentsen cited his business and political background, including three terms in the House.

"I believe this blend of private and public outlooks, Washington and non-Washington viewpoints, and legislative as well as administrative experience is what is required of the nation's leadership in the last half of this turbulent decade," the Texas senator said.

Besides providing jobs to pull the nation out of its current economic recession, he said "we must also restore an economic system which provides diversity of opportunity for earning a living and gives meaning to the dream of individual independence."

Sharply critical in recent speeches of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Bentsen said, "We must have a foreign policy which gives as much weight to interdependence as it does to military strength."

He said the Republican administration in Washington "has failed to govern with either wisdom or foresight."

"It has bounced from crisis to crisis," Bentsen added. "It has reacted to the problems of the moment. It is without specific goals. It is without sensible plans."

He chose a holiday, when few other news events were likely to occur, to announce his candidacy in the Senate Caucus Room, a traditional launching pad for presidential candidates.

Under a Texas law passed in 1960 for the late Lyndon B. Johnson, Bentsen will be able to run for both the presidency and re-election to the Senate in 1976.

In the past 18 months, Bentsen has taken advantage of his job as chairman of the 1974 Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee to travel widely while making little effort to hide his interest in the presidency.

Planets To Provide Sky Show Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Venus and Jupiter, the brightest bodies in the sky, will seem to meet in a "double star" effect after sundown tonight.

The apparent rendezvous of the two planets occurs annually, but this year the bodies are in an especially good position for viewing in the western sky.

If it is clear, viewers in all states will be able to see the paired planets for about two hours after sunset, according to the Griffith Observatory here.

Less than a finger's width of space will appear to separate Venus and Jupiter during the planetary conjunction because of their positions relative to Earth. But in fact they are some 404 million miles apart.

The observatory said the planets would seemingly start to move away from each other tonight, but would still provide a vivid show for several days.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy and cooler tonight with low in the lower 30s. Cloudy with a chance of rain Tuesday, high in the upper 40s. Wednesday cloudy with a chance of showers.

Interested Calloway County residents will soon be able to discover more about the workings of county agencies and offices. Through a federally funded program, Nanci C. Peterson has been employed as public relations director for Calloway County, and plans to explore the county, describing what she sees through the media.

Brown-eyed and brunette, Ms. Peterson works through the office of County Judge Robert O. Miller under Title II of the Comprehensive Education and Training Act of 1973.

"We plan to release, on the average, two features a week, and possibly more, including whatever news or pictures are available from the various agencies," said Ms. Peterson. The articles will appear regularly in The Murray Ledger & Times.

A Murray resident, she graduated cum laude from

Murray State University in December with a B. S. in journalism, and was employed

Nanci C. Peterson as News Editor of the Murray State News during the 1974 fall semester.

Ms. Peterson, recipient of a $100 West Kentucky Press Association scholarship, served as staff writer for the Cairo Evening Citizen and Hickman County Gazette last summer.

"I learned a number of things in Hickman County, where I spent most of my summer, about writing and about people. I also learned something about county government. To this I plan to add a great deal more knowledge, which I can share with Calloway Countians," she said.

Born in Minneapolis, Minn. on Oct. 16, 1953, Ms. Peterson moved to Murray with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clell T. Peterson, at age three.

"I haven't had much time for anything but writing recently, but I used to enjoy horseback riding and doing obedience work with dogs, and I'd like to find time again for both," she said.

Rev. Richard Walker To Leave Pulpit At 1st Baptist Church

Rev. Richard E. Walker announced his resignation as pastor of the First Baptist Church at the morning worship services on Sunday.

The pastor will be returning to Manaus, Amazonas, Brazil, South America, as a foreign missionary after he completes his pastorate here on April 6.

Rev. Walker said that his ministry here had been very delightful, but felt that The Lord was calling him to return to Manaus for missionary work there. He and his wife, Bea, and their 15 year old son, Boyd, will be leaving Murray in April. Their oldest son, Winston, will be entering the School of Ozarks, Point Lookout, Mo.

Ford Launching Face-To-Face Campaign Among Legislators

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, after a recent barnstorming stint around the country, is launching a face-to-face campaign for his energy and economic programs among members of the House and Senate.

He has invited the Senate Republican steering committee to dinner at the White House tonight and is planning breakfasts, dinners and receptions every day through Thursday for other legislators from both parties.

The Senate this week may take final action on the House-backed delay in Ford's oil tariff hike while the House Ways and Means Committee is taking final action on a Democrat-sponsored tax cut plan that may reach the House floor next week.

The President was on the road during the past two weeks, travelling to Georgia, Texas, Kansas and New York

Zarb Defends President's Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Skyrocketing petroleum prices during the past year have cut U. S. petroleum consumption by "at least one million barrels a day," Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb said today.

"Present consumption would have been at least one million barrels a day more if prices had not risen so sharply," Zarb told the House Energy and Power subcommittee.

Zarb defended President Ford's energy program, which includes a plan to cut U. S. oil consumption by imposing a $3-per-barrel import tax on petroleum.

He said the increase in crude oil prices that will result from the increased tariff will raise the price of gasoline about 10 to 15 cents per gallon while cutting U. S. petroleum consumption an additional million barrels per day.

Zarb said that to reduce consumption by that amount by levying additional taxes only on gasoline would have hiked the price of gasoline about 40 cents a gallon.

He said President Ford's proposal, which will affect all petroleum products, not just gasoline, was more equitable.

Zarb also criticized members of Congress who claim Ford is seeking too big a cut in oil consumption. He said failure to follow the President's recommendation could make the United States susceptible to a renewal of last year's Middle East oil embargo.

The Senate may take final action this week to block President Ford's oil price hike, but prospects of overriding the promised veto are in doubt.

The House, which already has voted to block the increase, this week acts on more money for the Penn Central railroad and creation of a select intelligence committee.

Both the House and Senate start the week today with traditional readings of George Washington's farewell address.

The Senate appears certain to approve the House-passed bill blocking for 90 days Ford's action to reduce Americans' fuel consumption by driving up the price.

But Ford has announced he'll veto Congress' blocking bill, and some senators say it's a close call whether the Senate could muster the two-thirds vote necessary to override.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., predicted Saturday the Senate would override Ford's veto and thus block the oil price hike but did not say what he based that prediction on.

The bill would suspend Ford's order to increase oil import tariffs $1 a barrel effective Feb. 1, $2 in March and $3 in April to increase gasoline prices.

Congressional opponents, primarily Democrats, want to suspend Ford's price hike to give them time to develop an energy program of their own.

The House Ways and Means Committee is scheduled to take final votes on a Democrat-sponsored (See House, Page 12)

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

Bury the hatchet on George's birthday

DEAR ABBY: I am probably only one mother among many with this problem, but if anyone can help us, Abby, it just might be you.

I have six grown children who have brought me much happiness, but here is the problem. The eldest daughter and youngest son had a falling out with each other four years ago, and they haven't spoken to each other since.

I can never have a complete family gathering because if my son and his wife are invited, my daughter and her family will not come, and vice versa.

I am sure they don't realize what a heartbreak this is to me. Please print this, Abby, and if it doesn't hit home with them, maybe it will help some other more fortunate mother.

PENNSYLVANIA MOM

DEAR MOM: I have always felt that forgiveness is one of man's noblest virtues, and because I feel so strongly about it, I have only two quotations on my desk—both dealing with that subject:

"He who cannot forgive, destroys the bridge over which he may one day need to pass."

And, "Forgiveness is the fragrance of the violet on the heel of the one who crushed it."

I hope your daughter and son start speaking to each other soon, because without communication, there can be no true. It matters not who SHOULD made the first move, but the one who does will show himself to be the more mature.

I pray your children see this, for their own sakes as well as for yours, Mom. Wouldn't it be great if they decided that February 22nd will be the ideal day to "bury the hatchet?"

DEAR ABBY: Why do telephone callers always get preference over customers who shop in person? It's so unfair!

I'm sure many of your readers have had that irritating experience. First they part their cars in a parking lot, or near a ticking meter. Then they fight to get waited on. And when they finally are, the telephone rings and the salesperson says, "Excuse me, please..." and proceeds to take a 15-minute order from the party on the phone. Meanwhile you are standing on one foot and then the other, burning with resentment.

Can't clerks use a little common sense and ask the person on the phone to kindly wait until she finishes with her customer?

I hope you find room for this in your column, Abby. If it's happened to you, you'll know how frustrating it is. Thanks.

STANDIN' AND WAITIN'

DEAR STANDIN': I found room for it, even though I'm usually the customer on the phone.

DEAR ABBY: I read your column in the STARS AND STRIPES, and when I came across the letter from "Upset Mother" who was ashamed of her son because he refused to fight, I had to write. This is for her:

Ma'am, I am a career Marine with a total of 8½ years in the service so far. I spent 2½ of those years in Vietnam as a telephone lineman with the Third Marine Division.

If my America goes to war again, I will be there. I have a family to support and I don't want to die any more than the next guy, but I still feel that my country is worth dying for.

Ma'am, I am still afraid of a fist fight. Unless I have no other way out, I still run. I do not consider myself a coward, nor does anyone who knows me. Please do not look at your son as one.

There is more to life than a fight. My initials are C.A.J., but sign me...

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

We are pleased to announce that Kay Ezell, bride-elect of Jan Dalton, has selected her Pottery, Stainless and Crystal from our complete Bridal Registry.

Kay and Jan are to be married April 5, 1975.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1975

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Opportunities in a new field will interest you considerably. Study well — if only to grasp as an avocation.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21)

Judgments of the a.m. could not only be a bit "cloudy" but, if based upon overoptimism, could have disappointing results. Your instincts can be trusted after 3 p.m., however.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Don't let your sympathies run away with you. There are those who would take advantage of your generosity.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

If a proposed plan or project is well-advised, accept — even though it is unique. It could just prove to be one of your more interesting challenges.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Some restrictions where personal relationships are concerned. Don't try to force issues. Associates won't play along.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

If you've had difficulty in launching a cherished project because of opposition, you'll get a chance to prove a significant point after noon — and barriers will fall.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Note the fine points in complicated matters, issues of importance. Make statements, decisions with particular care. Past procedures may have to be changed.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)

An active day indicated. Put all you have into endeavors: your best thoughts, plans, efforts. Look for the unexpected, and appreciate all — even the challenges.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A hunch could pay off — especially where career matters are concerned. But be sure you are seeing persons and situations in a realistic light.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Trend is toward the unusual. Rightly handled, this can be profitable, challenging. Don't neglect everyday matters, however.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You may run into snags and obstacles but you can handle them well. Pep up your ideas, keep your vision broad.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Don't be swayed by outside distractions, the bizarre doings of others. You could be fooled if not alert. Mixed influences — some disconcerting.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great versatility and a willingness to work hard to achieve top goals; have, therefore, fine potential for success. Always enthusiastic, you incline to scatter your energies — trying to do too many things at one time. Miss Patricia Berschied And Lawrence Anderson Married On Saturday

Mrs. Lawrence L. Anderson

The marriage of Miss Patricia Marie Berschied, daughter of Mrs. Ernest W. Rivers and the late John R. Berschied, to Lawrence L. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Anderson of Murray, was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents on Marlborough Way in Paducah on Saturday, February 15, at five p. m.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Donner before relatives and close friends of the bride and groom. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Ernest Evans before the ceremony.

The wedding party assembled in front of the fireplace which was decorated with an arrangement of carnations, tropicana roses and blue baby's breath on the mantel and flanked by tree candelabra entwined with matching flowers.

Bride's Dress

The bride given in marriage by her stepfather wore a formal gown of candleglow organza over English netting. The molded bodice was designed with a sheer, lace covered yoke defined with ruching. Long tapered sleeves to the wrist were finished with lace and ruching. Re-embroidered Alencon lace circled the empire waist, topping a full A-silhouette skirt enhanced with twin panels of lace falling to the lace etched hem. A full chapel train gave added beauty to the back of the gown.

She wore a lace-edged demi mantilla attached to a camelot cap delicately sprinkled with clusters of seed pearls. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of cream roses, stephanotis and blue baby's breath with blue ribbons tied in love knots.

Mrs. James Rafferty, the matron of honor, wore a formal gown of robin blue print polyshreen designed with fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and natural waistline. A slightly gathered skirt fell gracefully to the hem. She also carried a colonial bouquet of tropicana roses, cream carnations and blue baby's breath.

Artie D'Elia served as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a formal gown of blue chiffon with matching accessories. The mother of the groom wore a formal gown of mint green knit, also with matching accessories. They each wore a white orchid corsage.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home which was decorated throughout with flowers matching the fireplace arrangements.

Assisting were Mesdames Elmer Breidert, John Corey, Ernest Evans, David Gold, Harold McAllister, H. S. Melton, Jr., Jerome Vandeven and Ted Wierloch.

Mrs. Ralph Vaughn entertained the guests with music during the evening.

After a honeymoon trip to New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home in Murray where Mr. Anderson is working on his Master's Degree.

Boy Scouts: Now More Than Ever

The Boy Scouts of America are observing the 6th anniversary of the founding of the organization during the month of February. With some 6.5 million members, it is now the largest youth organization in the free world.

The purpose of scouting is unchanged—to build character, create awareness of citizenship responsibilities and promote mental and physical fitness. But under a new improved Scouting Program, adopted after three years of study, the approach to reaching these goals has been changed to meet the conditions of today.

There is no finer program for boys and we salute the adults who make the Boy Scout program possible. Without the voluntary assistance of men who guide the boys in the Scout program, there would be no Scout program. We, as well as many, many others, are called on for donations to keep the program going, but the greatest contribution is made by those who give something much more valuable than money—their time.

Thus, when the volunteer Scout drive workers come to see you, remember they are just asking you for a check or a donation. That is little to ask of us who do not give our time.

The Scouts themselves now, more than ever, have more responsibility for guiding troop programs. Recognition for progress comes more rapidly and more often. There is more flexibility in choosing scouting programs to fit the areas where Scouts actually live rather than the wilderness conditions of some distant forest they may never see.

The purpose of Boy Scouts of America is briefly and well stated in a recent issue of Scouting magazine which says: "It is the purpose of the BSA to provide for boys an effective program designed to build desirable qualities of character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and to develop in them personal fitness, thus to help in the development of American citizens who:

—Are physically, mentally and emotionally fit.

—Have a high degree of self-reliance as evidenced in such qualities as initiative, courage and resourcefulness.

—Have personal and stable values firmly based on religious concepts.

—Have the desire and the skills to help others.

—Understand the principles of the American social, economic and governmental system.

—Are knowledgeable about and take pride in their American heritage and understand America's role in the world.

—Have a keen respect for the basic rights for all people.

—Are prepared to fulfill the varied responsibilities of participating in and giving leadership to American society and in the forums of the world."

Young people of today must become men and women and fairly and integrity, able to live successfully and take part in today's complex world.

We also salute the adult leaders in the scout program and honor O. B. Boone, Jr., of Murray, who was recently awarded the coveted Silver Beaver, Scouting's highest award for leadership.

The Boy Scouts of America, with its improved scouting program, gives a helping hand. The Scouts deserve our thanks, our good wishes and our support.

YOUR BASAL METABOLIC REQUIREMENT

How many of us know what our basal metabolic requirement is? How many of us, in fact, know what the phrase means? Your basal metabolic requirement is simply the number of calories you need to handle those body functions which are involuntary (which you cannot control by inactivity) and to maintain your normal body temperature.

Beyond that you need calories for the things you do in your life that take actual body effort.

I AM INDEBTED today to an excellent new book on nutrition that expresses such requirements in the context of your "caloric checking account." The book, "Let's Talk About Food," was recently published in a third, expanded edition.

Listen to what the author says about basal metabolic requirement, citing a reference woman as a case in point:

"A woman 25 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 133 pounds, has a basal metabolic requirement of about 1,400 calories. Her recommended (total) caloric allowance for moderate activity, however, is 2,320 calories per day.

THE DIFFERENCE—860 calories—between her basal metabolic requirement and recommended caloric allowance represents the number of calories she must expend for voluntary activities. It is her caloric 'checking account.'"

"If all 860 calories are not used during the day's activity, those remaining are transferred from the 'checking account' to a 'savings account' and thus accumulate in the form of fat.

ON THE OTHER HAND, if she overdraws her checking account, the savings are called on and weight loss results. A relatively small savings account in the form of body fat is usually desirable."

It seems to me that the foregoing is an excellent expression of what calories and weight control are all about. You simply must understand it if you are to avoid being fooled by so many of the "trick" diets that are promoted.

IN TERMS OF WEIGHT, a calorie is a calorie and the only things that will control whether you store them or not are physical effort and/or eating less.

Incidentally, "Let's Talk About Food" is worth buying. It presents its facts in question-and-answer form, easy to read. Philip L. White, Sc.D., Director, and Nancy Selvey, R.D., Nutritionist, of the American Medical Association's Department of Foods and Nutrition, edited the book (Publishing Sciences Group, Inc., 411 Massachusetts Avenue, Acton, Mass. 01720 - $6.95).

Today In History

Today is Monday, Feb. 17, the 48th day of 1975. There are 317 days left in the year. George Washington's birthday is observed today.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1801, the U.S. House of Representatives broke an electoral tie between Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr and elected Jefferson President.

On this date—

In 1621, Miles Standish was made military captain of the Pilgrim colony at Plymouth, Mass.

In 1871, Baltimore became the first American city to be illuminated by gas lights. In 1876, sardines are believed to have been canned for the first time — at Eastport, Maine.

In 1934, King Albert of Belgium was killed in an accident while mountain climbing.

In 1944, in the Pacific war, American forces made an amphibious landing on the Japanese held island of Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

In 1964, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that congressional districts in each state must be roughly equal in population.

Ten years ago: the U.S. spacecraft, Ranger Eight, was launched from Cape Kennedy. It crash-landed on the moon on Feb. 20 after sending back more than 7,000 pictures.

Five years ago: Israeli jets bombed two Egyptian missile bases 19 miles from Cairo. The raids rattled windows in the Egyptian capital.

One year ago: a stolen military helicopter made a night landing on the White House lawn in Washington, and the pilot, an army private, was captured and held.

Today's birthdays: Mrs. Clifton Daniels, the former Margaret Truman, is 51. Singer Marian Anderson is 73.

Thought for today: From the sublime to the ridiculous there is only one step — Napoleon Bonaparte, 1769-1821

Governor Opposes Gill Nets

Dear Editor:

The controversy relating to the use of gill nets in the lakes of Western Kentucky has generated much interest on the part of sportsmen who, like myself, enjoy fishing as a form of recreation.

The licensing of gill nets is the sole responsibility of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. The Commissioner of that Department is appointed by the State Fish and Wildlife Commission, not by the Governor. The controversy, therefore, must be resolved by the Department and Commission; it cannot be resolved by the Governor.

While I cannot personally resolve the matter, I can express my personal concern. My concern is essentially the same as that of other sportsmen who perceive gill nets to be a present or potential threat to sport fishing.

I am aware of the arguments that gill nets pose no threat to game fish, but like many other fishermen I am not yet convinced. I am aware that gill nets are licensed only for limited use, but like other fishermen I sense this limited use may be an open door to unrestricted use due to the difficulty of enforcement.

I am advised that the gill net issue will be placed on the agenda and discussed at the March meeting of the Fish and Wildlife Commission. I sincerely trust that, at that meeting, the Commission members will give the issue a high priority and will fully consider all points of view. With this type of consideration, the Commission hopefully can stake out a position which, while respecting the importance of commercial fishing, properly reassures those of us who feel a genuine concern for the future of sport fishing in our western lakes.

Sincerely,
Julian M. Carroll
Governor of Kentucky

More On Commissaries

Dear Editor:

The military commissary system is hardly the self-supporting proposition that Major Parks and Captain Settimo, instructors at Murray State, would like us to believe. It costs the taxpayers plenty!

Buildings, land, warehouses, and other facilities are provided free of charge to the system by the U. S. Government—at a cost of many millions to the taxpayers—a benefit civilian concerns do not share. Moreover, thousands of military personnel are used—again at taxpayers' expense—to provide labor and services behind the scenes in stock rooms and in warehouses for the commissary system. Commanders wink at regulations which prohibit this.

Although commissaries do not sell beer, smaller facilities called "shopettes" do. Again, buildings and other facilities are provided by the taxpayer.

Although commissary customers are charged a small surtax, it is only fair to point out that they do not pay any sales taxes.

Perhaps Major Parks and Captain Settimo should do a bit of the homework on the military commissary system themselves that they assign to Anthony Harrigan. By the way, as "instructors" at MSU, perhaps they would wish to be paid at the same rate other "instructors" at MSU are paid.

Sincerely,
Bart Kane
(Veteran of ten years of service)

Dear Consumer

Vinyl Chloride Is Now Banned

By Virginia Knauer
Special Assistant to the President and Director
Office of Consumer Affairs
Department of Health, Education and Welfare

During 1974, three Federal agencies took action against vinyl chloride.

This chemical had been used as a propellant in some aerosol products. But when research showed that vinyl chloride might be a cause of liver cancer, the government moved to protect consumers.

• Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) banned pesticide sprays containing vinyl chloride as a propellant.

• Food and Drug Administration (FDA) banned the use of vinyl chloride in drugs and cosmetic products.

• Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) banned the use of vinyl chloride in household aerosol products—such as spray paints, solvents and adhesives—under its jurisdiction.

All banned products in stores were recalled; and no new products are being manufactured with vinyl chloride. But some consumers may still have old cans in their homes. You can protect yourself by writing for the agencies' lists of banned aerosol products containing vinyl chloride. Compare products' names and lot numbers with the aerosol cans on your shelves.

• Write to Office of Public Affairs, A-107, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, DC 20460; ask for press releases on banned aerosol products.

• Write or call your regional FDA office requesting complete list of drugs and cosmetics containing vinyl chloride. (Check phone directory for FDA, in U. S. Government listings, under "Health, Education and Welfare Department.")

• Write to Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, DC 20207. (Or call toll-free hot line: 800-638-2666 [in Maryland: 800-492-2937].) Ask for fact sheet on vinyl chloride. (Since CPSC does not yet have a complete list of consumer household products containing vinyl chloride, you may want to write directly to manufacturers of items you have. State each product's name and lot number, and ask whether the propellant contains vinyl chloride.)

When you write to CPSC, also ask for information on their repurchasing regulation. CPSC has the authority to make manufacturers repurchase banned products from consumers. (FDA and EPA do not have this authority.)—This means that you should be able to get refunds if you have aerosols, containing vinyl chloride, which come under CPSC's jurisdiction.

Correcting Nursing Home Deficiencies

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Through its chairman, Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, the Senate Special Committee on Aging asserted in a recent report that half of the nation's nursing homes are substandard. The deficiencies are not minor but allegedly are "life-threatening violations" and "are widespread."

The committee's list of complaints against nursing homes includes the following:

—Abuse and poor treatment of patients

—Unsanitary conditions, especially in regard to toilet practices.

—Poor food.

—Inadequate control of drugs.

In some instances, inadequately trained persons handle medications without proper supervision, some homes supposedly claiming to give drugs which are never received.

—Misappropriation and theft of patients' property by nursing home staff.

—Use of unauthorized and improper restraints.

—Reprisals against those patients who complain to the front office about service.

The responsibility to correct such practices rests with the owners and managers of particular nursing homes, their state and national nursing home organizations, the families and physicians and nurses of the patients, and all levels of government responsible for overseeing nursing homes.

Wider acceptance of the national accreditation programs now under way to raise standards will be helpful.

The committee alleged that certain states, notably California, New York and Illinois, have been dumping elderly patients into nursing homes from mental hospitals, causing "acute problems." This practice should be re-examined.

Families of patients, the health professionals involved in administering care, and local community leaders and organizations, working with the operators of nursing homes, need to demonstrate an interest in the welfare of confined persons.

Such concern can help to correct these undesirable, intolerable deficiencies wherever they exist. Adequate funding for needed nursing home care is essential.

Q. Mrs. G.Y. wants an explanation of a so-called spontaneous fracture.

A. Spontaneous fracture refers to a break in a bone as a result of aging or other disease. The bones lose their density and become demineralized (osteoporosis) in some old persons. This process can become so advanced that the bone fractures readily with ordinary activity or with a minor injury. A bone cyst or a cancerous growth in the bone may cause a spontaneous break. Such fractures are serious, depending on the cause.

Q. Mr. G.R., who is 74 years old, asks whether he is too old for contact lenses.

A. No. It may take some time to adapt to them, but they should be both comfortable and safe if worn as directed.

Isn't It The Truth

By Carl Riblet Jr.

If man and woman were not tempted, if they did not have to push away from the table, avoid wicked people and wicked ways, hold their tempers and kick themselves in the pants instead of kicking the object of their anger, why, a human being could be a god in the next life and enjoy the fruits of what must be foresworn here and now.

For the second year in a row, the physical education program at the Murray State University School has been recognized as one of the finest in the state.

Wildcats' Title Hopes Are Severely Damaged

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Tennessee Volunteers went from one bad week to one great weekend. And as a result, the Kentucky Wildcats went from first to second in the Southeastern Conference standings.

The Volunteers, crippled by injuries, lost three straight games but rebounded with a notable 103-98 victory over fourth-ranked Kentucky Saturday night.

The triumph, coupled with seventh-ranked Alabama's 88-79 decision over Mississippi, dropped Kentucky one game behind the Crimson Tide in the SEC race.

"We've had a lot of big victories but this has to be one of the great ones," said Tennessee Coach Ray Mears. "We had to play a nearly perfect game to beat Kentucky. Bernard King played real well for a guy who hadn't run all week."

King, one of those nursing an injury last week, didn't seem to let his knee problems bother him. He scored 24 points.

There were few other surprises in the Top Twenty over the weekend.

Indiana's top-ranked Hoosiers won as easily as expected, blasting Northwestern 82-58 for their 27th straight victory.

Second-ranked UCLA defeated No. 17 Oregon State 74-62; No. 3 Maryland beat No. 11 North Carolina 96-74; No. 5 North Carolina State trimmed Wake Forest 89-87; No. 6 Louisville beat St. Louis 75-68 in a Sunday game; eighth-ranked Arizona State rolled past Brigham Young 99-79; No. 9 Marquette crushed Detroit 81-62 and No. 10 Southern Cal beat No. 13 Oregon 92-90.

Among the Second Ten, No. 14 Penn hammered Harvard 103-81; No. 16 Notre Dame walloped No. 12 La Salle 91-75; 15th-ranked Pan American ripped Denver 73-66; 18th-ranked Clemson defeated Duke 100-86; No. 19 Arizona turned back Utah 93-89; and No. 20 Creighton outscored Oklahoma City 68-56.

Ernie Grunfeld scored 29 points and Tennessee led from the opening minutes in upsetting Kentucky. The loss halted a nine-game Kentucky winning streak and left the Wildcats at 11-2 in the SEC compared to 'Bama's 12-1 league showing.

Tennessee's five starters all were in double figures. Along with Brunfeld and King, Mike Jackson added to the Vols' high-powered attack with 24 points.

Kevin Grevey, Kentucky's leading scorer with a 24.5 average, connected for 24 points to pace the Wildcats.

Alabama shook off some early lethargy and charged by Mississippi behind the play of Leon Douglas. The Alabama star scored 27 points, helping the Crimson Tide to their 19th victory in 21 starts this year.

Indiana had no problems at all with Northwestern, running up a 32-point lead behind the Hoosier starters at the half and then letting the subs take care of the rest. Kent Benson finished with 14 points to lead the nation's No. 1 team while Quinn Buckner and Bobby Wilkerson scored 12 apiece.

Andre McCarter's 18 points and all-around floor play led UCLA to its Pac-8 victory over Oregon State. UCLA, which converted 28 of 38 free throws as opposed to only 8 of 14 for the Beavers, jumped to a 49-38 lead after six minutes of the second half. But Oregon State came back to within two points at 57-55 with 7:50 remaining.

The Bruins' Dave Meyers hit an 18-foot jumper and two free throws and Rich Washington added a 12-foot jumper and two free throws to give the Bruins a 65-55 lead.

UCLA won its 79th straight game at Pauley Pavilion and widened its Pac-8 lead to two games with an 8-1 record, followed by the Beavers with a 6-3 mark. McCarter and Jim Spillane led the Bruins as they forced the Beavers to commit numerous turnovers with Spillane making seven steals.

Meyers, UCLA's top scorer, was held without a field goal through the first 24 minutes. He and Washington finished with 14 points each for the Bruins.

Oregon State was led by Lonnie Shelton, who scored 17 points before fouling out with 4:02 remaining and UCLA ahead 65-59. Paul Miller and Don Smith each added 10 points for the Beavers.

Louisville had to rally from a 23-point deficit midway through the second half to beat St. Louis. Allen Murphy sparked the Cardinal comeback and wound up 12 points, all in the second half.

John Lucas' 31 points led Maryland's victory; David Thompson scored 22 points, including two key free throws at the end, to help North Carolina State beat Wake Forest; Arizona State whipped Brigham Young behind Mike Moon's 22 points.

Racers Blown Out By Bucs But Still Have Chance At Playoffs

A playoff to decide who makes the playoffs?

It could be that way if the Ohio Valley Conference follows course with another crazy weekend of play.

Here's what the situation is now in the league:

Middle Tennessee, who lost its first league game by falling 89-85 Saturday at Morehead, has just about wrapped up the conference crown. And it appears safe to say Austin Peay and Tennessee Tech will both be in the post-season tourney, which will decide the OVC's representative to the NCAA Midwest Regional.

And since Western Kentucky, which is in second place in the league's standings, is ineligible for the tourney, then the fourth playoff spot is still up for grabs. Going into Saturday's games, Eastern and Murray were tied for the final playoff spot.

But the Racers dropped an 88-75 contest to East Tennessee while Eastern lost at home to Western.

That leaves Murray, Eastern, Morehead and East Tennessee all tied for the last playoff spot with records of 3-7.

On the schedule for tonight are the following games: Murray at Tennessee Tech, Austin Peay at East Tennessee, Western at Morehead and Middle at Eastern Kentucky.

Morehead Brings End To Middle Winning Streak

By The Associated Press
Western Kentucky basketball coach Jim Richards, his team back in contention for the Ohio Valley Conference lead, is grateful to fellow Kentucky school Morehead State.

"I'd like to thank Morehead for giving us a chance again," he said after Morehead stopped Middle Tennessee's winning streak at 13 games, defeating MTSU 89-85 Saturday night.

Western Kentucky, meanwhile, was defeating Eastern Kentucky 84-75.

Following the two games, Western is 8-2 in the conference and MTSU is 9-1. The leaders are to meet in Murfreesboro, Tenn. March 1.

Elsewhere in OVC action Saturday night, East Tennessee defeated Murray 88-75 and Austin Peay whipped Tennessee Tech 94-79.

Morehead's upset marked the second straight year the Eagles have ended a MTSU winning streak. Last year Morehead upended the Blue Raiders by five points to end their winning streak at 10.

Arch Johnson scored 27 points to lead the Eagles, who took the lead with just over two minutes gone in the game and never trailed again.

MTSU was able to tie it at 29-29 with 5:55 left in the half, but could get no closer than the final four-point margin in the second half.

Morehead evened its overall record at 10-10 and pushed its OVC mark to 3-7. MTSU, led by Tim Sisneros with 22 points, dropped to 18-3 overall.

At Richmond, Ky., Eastern Kentucky coach Bob Mulcahy had no criticism for his team's effort against Western. "I don't know how anyone can expect anything more from us," Mulcahy said after the stubborn Colonels tied the score 12 times and were only two points behind with 2:30 left, before losing.

Wilson James scored 29 points to lead Western, now 13-7 overall. Carl Brown, with 25, was tops for Eastern, which is 3-7 in the OVC and 7-14 overall.

"Hey, they don't play like a team—that's lost that many games," Richards said of the Colonels' record.

Austin Peay's Joe Johnson scored 23 points to lead the Governors over Tennessee Tech. Peay took the lead with about six minutes left in the first half and never trailed again.

Tom Schmidt had 22 points to lead the Golden Eagles, who dropped to 10-10 overall and 4-6 in the OVC. Austin Peay is in third place in the OVC now with a 7-3 league record and a 13-8 overall mark.

In other Kentucky college games, Kentucky State invaded Knoxville College for a 77-76 win. Pikeville ended its regular season with a 96-75 victory over Thomas More and Campbellsville downed Berea 73-60.

If the Racers would have defeated the Bucs Saturday, Murray would have had sole possession of the last playoff berth. But a pair of hot-shooting Bucs took care of that.

Guard Bruce Curtis fired in 12 of 25 field goal attempts and finished with a game-high 27 points while 6-5 swingman Kenny Reynolds, the third-leading scorer in the league, added 20 on his nine of 16 shooting.

It marked the second time this season the Racers have lost to the Bucs. In their first matchup in the Sports Arena back on January 20, the Bucs slugged the Racers 89-85 behind the 32-point output by Reynolds.

The contest was close for the first half with neither team able to break the game open. At intermission, the Bucs, who never trailed in the game, led 37-32.

Trailing 55-50 midway through the final half, the Racers got buckets from junior forward Jesse Williams and sophomore guard Grover Woolard to pull within a point at 55-54.

Nets And Q's Both Play In Overtime Games Once Again

Recession or not, the New York Nets can do without any more overtime, thank you.

After losing at San Diego 176-166 in a four-overtime marathon Friday night, the weary Nets flew on to Denver and dropped a 177-115 decision to the Nuggets Sunday afternoon, this time in one overtime.

San Diego, meanwhile, needed four extra sessions against New York to get the hang of overtime play. But the Q's, having found something they like, decided to stick with a good thing and used one extra period Sunday night in beating the Kentucky Colonels 133-128.

Friday night between the Nets and Q's was the longest in the history of the ABA and set a host of records, including most points by both teams, 342. There was no rest for the weary, however, as the Nets had to go up against Denver, whose 47-14 record is the best in basketball.

New York blew an eight-point lead in the final 2 1/2 minutes of regulation time when Claude Terry came off the bench to sink a pair of three-pointers, Bobby Jones and Mike Green added baskets and the Nuggets outscored the Nets 10-2 to tie the score at 104-104.

The Nets built leads of three and four points in overtime, but each time Denver came back to draw even. New York attempted to run down the clock for the last shot, but Billy Paultz' jumper was blocked by Jones, who fed guard Mack Calvin for the winning lay-in. Brian Taylor's baseline jumper with four seconds left for the Nets was long and Bill Melchionni's follow was swatted away by Jones at the buzzer.

Jones, a rookie from North Carolina, led Denver with 23 points. New York's Larry Kenon was the game's high scorer with 28. Julius Erving, who tallied a career-high 63 points Friday, added 26 for the Nets.

Q's 133, Colonels 128, OT
Bo Lamar, the hero of Friday's marathon when he scored eight points in the fourth overtime, hit for 13 of San Diego's 19 points in the extra period against Kentucky.

Lamar, who scored a career-high 45 points against the Nets, totaled 40 against the Colonels.

The game was tied three times in the overtime period, the last at 120-120. Then Lamar hit a 10-footer jumper from the baseline to give the Q's the lead, and he added three more baskets later on to put the game out of reach.

That was as close as Murray got the rest of the contest.

The Bucs then ran for 11 consecutive points and from that point on, blew the Racers off the floor. Three other Bucs hit in double digits with Elmo Seay landing 14 points, Morris Tampa 11 and Charlie Stuart 10.

Woolard paced the Racers with 22 while Williams added 19, Zach Blasingame 16 and Jeff Hughes 12.

The Racers were badly beaten on the boards, getting just 36 rebounds while East Tennessee walked over Murray by getting 50.

The Bucs hit on an even 50 per cent, hitting 38 of 76 floor shots while Murray hit 46 per cent on 31 of 68.

Murray falls to a dismal 10-11 for the season.

It would also seem the Racers are out of the playoff picture as they have the toughest schedule of any of the teams vying for the final berth. The Racers, after the game with Tech tonight, must play Western and Austin Peay at home and then play at Middle Tennessee.

Here are the remaining schedules for the four schools, all of which are currently tied for last place in the eight-team league.

East Tennessee—Austin Peay, at Morehead, Eastern Kentucky and Tech.

Morehead—Western, East Tennessee, at Tech, Eastern

Eastern Kentucky—Middle

Tech, at East Tennessee, at Morehead.

Murray—At Tech, Western,

at Middle, and Austin Peay.

The schedule advantage would seem to favor Morehead and East Tennessee, all of whom have three games remaining at home.

Bucks Blow Huge Lead And Get Upset By Jazz

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Bucks had a laughter going at New Orleans — a 17-point lead after three quarters, a 10-point bulge with four minutes to go.

But the players on the New Orleans Jazz weren't laughing. Instead they throttled the Bucks' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar with solid defense, reeled off 14 consecutive points and pulled out a stunning 103-101 upset over the Bucks Sunday night.

"The only way you can get the other team to miss is to play defense and we're gradually beginning to do that," said Jazz Coach Butch van Breda Kolff, whose team posted its 10th victory against 45 losses.

The triumph means that even if New Orleans fails to win another game all year, it will not equal the National Basketball Association's record.

Racer Women Lose 58.57 To Missouri

The University of Missouri almost had its perfect season ruined Saturday but came back in the final minutes to post a 58-57 win over the Murray State women's basketball team in a contest played in the Sports Arena.

Coming into the game, Missouri owned a 9-0 record. Murray led for most of the game. At intermission, the Racers held on to a slim 29-27 lead.

And with just over three minutes left in the contest, the Racers were ahead by five points. But an outburst of fouls and turnovers in the final minutes by the Racers allowed Missouri to catch up and go ahead to hail down the win.

Lois Holmes and Debbie Hayes each had 17 points to pace the Murray scoring while Gene Thompson and Jana Jones added eight apiece. Other scoring included Beverly Parrish five and Diane Wolfolk two.

The loss leaves Murray with an 8-10 state. The Racers will play at Western Kentucky Tuesday night.

for futility set by the Philadelphia 76ers in 1972-73, when they won just nine games all year.

Elsewhere in the NBA Sunday, the Chicago Bulls beat the Buffalo Braves 114-99, the Washington Bullets beat the New York Knicks 125-104, the Seattle SuperSonics topped the Los Angeles Lakers 109-87, the Cleveland Cavaliers defeated the Houston Rockets 100-95 and the Kansas City-Omaha Kings edged the Detroit Pistons 102-99.

Guard Louie Nelson and forward Nate Williams led the Jazz rally, which erased an 88-71 deficit in the final period. Williams tallied 10 points and Nelson eight as the Jazz outscored the visitors 32-14 in the final 12 minutes.

Milwaukee was ahead 99-89 with four minutes left, but New Orleans poured in 14 straight points for a 103-99 lead. Abdul-Jabbar's dunk at the buzzer left the Bucks two points short.

Nelson topped the Jazz with 27 points. Abdul-Jabbar had 33 for Milwaukee, which dipped two games below .500 and 7½ games behind the pace-setting Chicago Bulls in the NBA's rugged Midwest Division.

Bulls 114, Braves 99
Norm Van Lier scored 21 of his 29 points in the second half. Chet Walker netted nine points in the final four minutes and center Nate Thurmond blocked a pair of shots near the end that insured the Bulls' 24th victory in the last 33 games.

McAdoo led Buffalo with 40 points. Bob Love topped Chicago with 31.

Bullets 125, Knicks 104
Elvin Hayes poured in 33 points and grabbed 14 rebounds. Kevin Porter had 22 points and 11 assists and Wes Unseld contributed 18 rebounds for Washington, which outscored the Knicks 28-2 in eight minutes of the second half. It was New York's fifth straight loss.

Sonics 109, Lakers 87
Spencer Haywood scored 24, Leonard Gray 22 and Fred Brown 20 for Seattle, which had claim of its last six starts. Cazzie Russell topped Los Angeles with 24.

Cavs 100, Rockets 95

Dick Snyder, Jim Chones and Bobby Smith combined for 56 points for Cleveland, which moved 1½ games ahead of Houston in their battle for second place in the Central Division. Snyder led the Cavs with 21.

Kings 102, Pistons 99
KC-Omaha jumped to a 19-point lead in the third quarter and held off Detroit for its 10th victory in the last 11 games. The surprising Kings were once again led by the backcourt duo of Nate Archibald and Jimmy Walker, who scored 35 and 26 points, respectively.

Lyon County Wins Marshall Tourney

A tough Lyon County team took the championship of the Marshall County Eighth Grade Tourney held over the weekend at North Marshall.

Lyon County had advanced to the finals by winning a semifinal match over Reidland. In the other semifinal game, North Marshall edged Brazelton.

Lyon County trailed in the championship game by 11 points at halftime but outscored North Marshall by 25 points in the second half to post a 52-38 win.

In the consolation contest, Reidland edged Brazelton 52-51. Lyon County ends its season with a perfect 17-0 mark. They won their first round game Friday over Murray Middle School.

Woods' Team Meeting Was Key For Tennessee

By ESCAR THOMPSON
Associated Press Writer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — No doubt about it, Rodney Woods will be able to return to his Four-Mile, Ky., next summer with head held high. Woods was the dynamo who ignited the spark that fired Tennessee to a 103-98 basketball victory over fourth-ranked Kentucky Saturday night.

The valiant little Vol captain called a squad meeting Thursday night and told his teammates he wanted this one badly. Forget the three straight losses, Rodney said, and win this one for me.

"I also wanted this one for Mom and Dad," Woods said. "When you live in Kentucky and pull for Tennessee, you have to take a lot."

Coach Ray Mears called it perhaps the greatest victory in his 19 year coaching career.

"Rodney Woods won the game," Mears declared. "I don't know what he said at that Thursday team meeting, but whatever it was made all the difference in the world."

Woods, hobbling on a gimpy ankle, scored 14 points, had 10 assists and directed the Vol offense.

He put Tennessee ahead 4-2 on a 25-foot jumper with the game only one minute old and thereafter Kentucky played catch-up.

The Wildcats never quite made it.

Tennessee led 56-44 at the half. But Kentucky, getting a lift from freshman Jack Givens in the second half cut the Vol margin to 90-88 with a little more than three minutes remaining.

Givens scored 20 points, 16 after intermission.

"When we closed to 90-88, I thought—Tennessee—might crack," said Kentucky Coach Joe Hall. "We had momentum then, but they kept coming back. You have to give Tennessee all the credit in the world."

Both Mears and Hall said the game was superbly played.

"The difference was on the backboards," said Hall, referring to Tennessee outrebounding his Cats 42-34.

Racer Track Team Is Second At Sikeston

Murray State took second place in a quadrangular track meet held Saturday at Sikeston, Mo.

Southeast Missouri won the meet with 76 points while Murray was runnerup with 65 points. The other two teams in the meet were Harding College and Missouri-Rolla.

It was a day of frustration for the Racers as they suffered through what's known as "home-cooking" in basketball. Senior hurdler Gary Craft appeared to have won the 60-yard high hurdles in a breeze but was given second place by the spotters, who were also trying to act as timers at the same time, something that is "taboo" in track.

There was also a pushing incident in the mile-relay that cost Murray a win in the event. In the field events, the measuring procedures were highly inconsistent with different procedures used in measuring the marks of Murray athletes and participants from Southeast Missouri.

None-the-less, there were some outstanding individual efforts in the meet. However, the times and distances were not as great as what the average track fan might expect.

The track was a 10-lap per mile track plus athletes had to wear flats in all the field events, the 60-yard dash and the hurdling events. Thus with less traction because they didn't have spikes, the athletes' times were all a bit more and distances a bit less.

Sophomore Patmore

Chatham won a pair of first places and continued his outstanding work in the field events.

In the triple jump, Chatham set a new fieldhouse record with a 46-2 in winning the event. Chatham was a double winner as he won the long jump with an effort of 22-8½.

Two other Racers placed in the triple jump: Trevor Athill was second with 22.4 while Lester Flax was third with a 21-1½.

Flip Martin won the high jump with a 6-4 while Jim Rozhon was second at 6-2.

In the shot put, Steve Ford recorded his personal best for the season of 50-9 to take first place.

Craft, who won the 60-yard intermediates in 7.7, had to settle for second in the high hurdles and was given a 7.7, though it was reported to have been rather obvious Craft actually won the event.

In the 300-yard dash, Stanford "Little Joe" Patrick was third in 33.2, though he won his heat. He was in the "slow" heat of the two and had been in the other heat with the faster runners, it would have probably caused him to run harder and push his time down even more.

Mike Campbell, a senior, was second in the 440 with a 51.3 while in the 880, Dennis Mabbitt was second with 1:57.4.

The only sprint race the Racers won was the 600 where Flax took first in 1:15.

Senior Gordy Benfield and freshman Martyn Brewer placed second and third

J. C. Snead Wins San Diego Tourney, Making Good Name

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — J. C. Snead, a playoff winner in the Andy Williams-San Diego Open Golf Tournament, has lived in his 33 years in the massive shadow of his famous Uncle Sam.

At times it's been a problem. But now he's learned to live with it.

"Just because my name is Snead, lots of people think I'm somebody I'm not," the one-time pro baseball player said Sunday after defeating defending champion Bobby Nichols and Ray Floyd in four holes of sudden death.

"Sometimes I've had a hard time with it. Maybe somebody had a run-in with my uncle a long time ago and they want to give me a hard time about it. They think I'm somebody or something I'm not."

"But it doesn't really bother me any more."

Early in life, the big, easy-going guy stayed away from the game his flamboyant uncle once dominated. He didn't take up golf seriously until he was in his 20s. That was after spending three years as an outfielder in the Washington Senators chain.

"I'd had a good year the year before and they wouldn't move me to a higher classification, so I figured I wasn't gonna make it — that I was just wasting my time."

He worked several years in club jobs before turning to the tour in 1969. He struggled for a couple of years, broke through to two victories in 1971, won again in 1972 and starred on both of the last U. S. Ryder Cup teams.

The last two years have been financially rewarding for him — more than $100,000 in each season — but he didn't win.

"I had a shot at winning seven, maybe eight times last year; maybe four or five times the year before," he recalled.

"It seemed that something always jumped up, something always happened. Every time."

"I was beginning to wonder if I ever was gonna win again."

It came the hard way Sunday.

He had to come from five strokes off the pace with a four-under-par 68 in the cold and wind to tie Nichols and Floyd at 279, nine-under-par on the seaside, 7,047-yard South course at Torrey Pines Park. Nichols had a closing 71, Floyd 72.

Nichols dropped out with a three-putt bogey on the first sudden death hole. Floyd took Snead two more holes before he pumped his second shot into the water on the fourth playoff hole. Snead made birdie-four and it was over.

Rod Funseth, who had the lead after 54 holes, went to a 74 in the last round and missed the playoff by a single stroke at 280. Tom Kite followed at 281 after a closing 71.

Madisonville Crime Laboratory To Open

FRANKFORT, Ky.—"Two weeks can be an awful long time when you have a murder on your hands and need some answers in a hurry."

But a new state police crime laboratory, to be opened sometime next month in renovated space on the third floor of the state's old Tuberculosis Hospital at Madisonville, soon could ease that and other problems for authorities in Western Kentucky, according to Kentucky State Police Capt. Marion Campbell.

Campbell, who commands the State Police Special Investigations Unit here, which includes all state police crime lab operations, said recently that the planned opening of a new laboratory at Madisonville promises authorities in that part of the state "a much faster turn-around rate on criminal evidence submitted to state police for scientific analysis."

"And because of that new capability, we expect to get as high as 75-100 new requests for help from police in Western Kentucky almost immediately," he said.

The Madisonville-based facility was funded under a $104,375 federal-state grant awarded state police last November by the Kentucky Crime Commission (KCC).

Plans call for the new facility to be staffed initially by three chemists and a supervisor who will provide laboratory support and some on-the-scene technical help to police, sheriffs' departments, prosecutors, coroners and other law enforcement officials in a 23-county area located west of a line drawn along the eastern boundaries of Hancock, Ohio, Muhlenberg and Todd counties.

According to Campbell, the Madisonville lab is to be the first of five such facilities which state police eventually hope to establish at various locations in Kentucky. All five will operate as satellites of the main—and, until now, only—state police lab at Frankfort.

To date, only one other facility has been approved for KCC funding. During January, state police were awarded another $90,625 for a second lab to be located on-campus at the University of Louisville.

Population, crime rates and distance to the main lab at Frankfort are the chief criteria being considered in determining where each lab will be located.

"In the case of the lab at Madisonville, the distance which police had to drive in order to get evidence to Frankfort became the most important consideration," Campbell said.

Campbell said that he considered the plan to open regionally-based, satellite crime labs as being "a giant step forward" for law enforcement in Kentucky.

While the satellite labs will not have the same sort of sophisticated instrumentation now available at Frankfort—"the main lab will continue to handle the more difficult cases," he said—they will be able to take over much of the more routine work which currently accounts for a large part of the Frankfort lab's annual caseload.

During 1974, the lab handled almost 6,000 cases, or nearly double the number reported just one year earlier.

Campbell said he expected that increased utilization of satellite lab facilities not only would help in reducing the caseload at Frankfort, but, more importantly for police, would reduce the amount of time now required to give requesting agencies a completed report.

The current time required to complete an exam and prepare a report averages about two weeks, he said.

Reducing the caseload at Frankfort also will allow state police more time for necessary research and increased concentration on the more complex cases, he said.

Among the tests to be taken over largely by the satellite labs are drug identifications which, said Campbell, "are responsible for much of our backlog right now." Other tests to be conducted by the satellite labs initially will include blood identification, glass, soil and hair examinations.

Some labs also may be equipped to handle ballistics (firearms) work, he said.

If any police officer complains about delays after the satellite labs become operational, the fault probably will not be with any large backlog, but with a hard-and-fast rule that Campbell flatly refuses to water down.

"No supervisor can call off a test by telling the examiner that he has done enough," said Campbell. "Every piece of evidence receives multiple tests, and each examiner must be personally satisfied with the results before any official report is made."

The lab will make every effort to complete every test as soon as possible, said Campbell, "but we don't testify for anyone but the truth."

Public Meetings To Be Held On Justice

FRANKFORT, Ky. — State and regional criminal justice professionals are planning a series of public meetings in nine Kentucky cities starting this month to sound out public attitudes and views on improvements in the state's criminal justice system.

Plans for the public hearings were announced here Tuesday by state Justice Secretary Henri L. Mangeot, who said that he, as the chairman of the Kentucky Crime Commission, along with members of his staff, would join regional crime councils in conducting the open forums, the first of which will be held Feb. 17 at Louisville.

Other cities on the list, and dates of the meetings, were given as Paducah, Feb. 19; Hopkinsville, Feb. 20; Owensboro, Feb. 21; Ashland, Feb. 24; Lexington, Feb. 26; Somerset, Feb. 27; Bowling Green, Feb. 28; Covington, Mar. 3.

Mangeot said views expressed at the meetings will be useful in formulating planning efforts of the local, regional and state criminal justice agencies, adding that the citizen input "will be considered in the process of developing criminal justice standards and goals."

The state justice department is in the early stages of a two-year effort which will culminate in the formal adoption of standards and goals for Kentucky's criminal justice system.

Members of the department's special planning unit—PROBE—will present a "plan of action" to the Kentucky Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards in March which will outline the unit's two years of work. The commission then will assign task forces to review and evaluate the entire criminal justice system, identifying areas in need of improvement and recommending standards and goals in an effort to affect a reduction of crime and insure justice.

The results of the public meetings will be presented in report form to the advisory commission and the task forces for their consideration in the process of developing standards and goals.

The soon-to-be launched nine-city tour is the second such swing through the state that the justice department has conducted in less than a year. Mangeot said that public meetings held last summer in nine Kentucky cities "helped us to better identify problems and define solutions, especially in such areas as juvenile delinquency and crime prevention."

"The public concern over crime is often voiced but seldom heard on a first-hand basis by the very agencies which are supposed to be doing something about it...We recognize the concern; we intend to do something about it," Mangeot said.

Navy Airman Recruit Kenny M. Hargrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus G. Hargrove of Route 5, Murray, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, Fla. He is scheduled to report to Aviation Fire Control Technician School, Millington, Tenn. The training included instruction in seamanship, military regulations, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and Navy history.

Sprinklers Would Help Contain Fires In High-Rise Buildings

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'd sleep a lot better at night if the World Trade Center had sprinklers," Fire Commissioner John O'Hagan said last week.

Automatic sprinkler systems are not mandatory under the city fire codes. When flames broke out in the center's 110-story north tower at midnight Thursday, there were no sprinklers to help contain the blaze. It spread to parts of six floors, but no one was seriously injured.

Sprinkler systems — the best way to save lives in high-rise building fires, according to fire officials — now are required in some states. They are also being installed in some new building even where regulations do not require them.

Nationwide attention first was drawn to the dangers of high-rise fires in November 1972 Live television cameras were on when four women jumped to their deaths as fire swept the upper stories of a 17-story building in New Orleans.

The fire could have been stopped if a water sprinkler system had been installed in the building, said the head of a presidential commission on fire protection.

Ohio already had a law requiring sprinklers in new high-rise buildings. Maryland, Massachusetts and California since have passed similar laws.

"The tendency now is to require sprinklers," said Robert Hodnett, fire protection engineer with the National Fire Protection Association. "It is probably the single best means of fire protection. More and more states and municipalities are making it mandatory."

There are 40,000 sprinklers in the 110-story Sears Towers in Chicago, the world's tallest building at 1,450 feet. There is no regulation requiring them, but $4 million was spent to install the sprinklers.

The building also has a computerized smoke detection system, water pumps and emergency power generators which could power, if necessary, to certain elevators.

Builders and developers often have objected to the extra costs of installing sprinklers.

The chief of Chicago's Fire Prevention Bureau, Francis Murphy, said during construction of the Sears Tower trade-offs were made, where reasonable, to lessen costs in one area so as to ease the sprinkler costs.

Paul Ott, lifelong conservationist, dedicated sportsman, student naturalist, self-taught musician, and talented producer, will be the featured speaker at the fifth annual "Great American Weekend — Eagles '75" at Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park, February 21-23. The weekend is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Parks in conjunction with TVA's Land Between The Lakes. Preregistration for this weekend is suggested. Field trips to Land Between The Lakes in search of the majestic bald and golden eagles will be limited to the first 200 people registered. Registration forms and additional information are available from Land Between The Lakes, TVA, Golden Pond, Kentucky 4231. Reservations should be made through Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park, Gilbertsville, Kentucky 42044.

Rifle-Carrying Transient Dies In Battle With Seattle Police

SEATTLE (AP) — Albert Loges carried his rifle with him everywhere, even to the grocery store.

But when police came to question him about it Friday, the 58-year-old transient holed up in his $50-a-month hotel room. He was shot to death an hour later after firing on the officers, police said.

Grocer John Kovacevic telephoned police and said he asked for a plainclothes officer to investigate Loges, who had been trading at his store for three or four months and always carried the M1 carbine.

Kovacevic said he finally told Loges on Friday to take the weapon home, "leave it home, come back and do your shopping later." Loges began to shake violently, paid for his groceries and left.

Loges also had talked recently about killing the police, said Kovacevic, owner of the J&K Grocery a half-block from the hotel.

Police said Loges fired through the door at two policemen who had come to question him after the call. He also fired through his window at a police car in the alley, but no one was hit, police said.

The officers called for assistance and a special assault team and other heavily armed police arrived.

They laid down a fog of tear gas in the hotel and tried to talk Loges out of the room, said Sgt. Larry Farrar of the assault team.

"He yelled something at us, but we couldn't understand what he said," Farrar said. "It sounded like he was screaming."

After failing to kick in the door, officers chopped a hole in it with fire axes. Loges fired at them again and officers stuck a pistol and a shotgun through the hole and opened fire. Loges was fatally wounded in the chest, police said.

Kovacevic said he didn't know what Loges did or where he came from except that he often paid for groceries with $50 or $100 bills that "looked like he had kept them in his shoe."

The manager of the Strand Hotel, an aging three-story building in a rundown neighborhood near Seattle's waterfront, said Loges had lived there about a year.

"We don't know anything about him," the manager said. "He never said anything. We run a transient business here and we don't get involved with the personal lives of our customers."

B.R. "Frenchy" LaBlanc, a neighbor of Loges on the second floor of the hotel, said Loges seldom drank but always carried a gun.

"He carried this gun everywhere, but he was quiet and never bothered anybody," LaBlanc said.

But another neighbor said, "I've been telling everybody this guy's nuts and he's got a carbine, but nobody cared."

Kovacevic cared but says now he regrets telephoning police.

"I wish I hadn't reported it," he said. "I feel bad ... I feel like I did it."

Employers To Get Break On Quarterly Payments

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Kentucky employers will get a break when they pay their quarterly contribution to the state's Unemployment Insurance Fund.

Gov. Julian Carroll has announced today that the rate schedule for payment of the employer's contribution for unemployment insurance coverage for his employees has been adjusted downward. This will be reflected in payments due at the end of the present quarter, March 31.

Sec. C. Leslie Dawson, Department for Human Resources, has signed the administrative order.

Legislation governing the Kentucky unemployment insurance program was written so that the burden on the employer would be eased during periods of economic recession. It established contribution rate schedules and provisions for changing the rate on a yearly basis if economic factors warrant.

The unemployment insurance program is based on a financing system which reflects both experience and merit rating of the employer (his employment record and tax contributions compared to his unemployment and benefit claims), and the collective sharing of benefit costs.

The contribution rate assigned to a covered employer during any year depends upon two factors:

— The relationship between the firm's tax payments to the state's Trust Fund and the cost of benefits paid to workers whose unemployment is charged to that firm's account, and — The overall financial status or solvency condition of the state's insurance fund.

The solvency condition of Kentucky's Trust Fund is excellent and this determines which of the five schedules, established by law, will be in effect.

The lowest rate will now be 0.1 per cent for employers with high reserves in the Trust Fund and low unemployment. Employers with high unemployment and a negative balance in their account will be paying up to 3.2 per cent.

In other words, the lowest rates apply to the firms with favorable employment records and large reserve balances, while the highest rates apply to the firms with unfavorable employment experience and a negative reserve balance.

WATER RAINS ON TAXPAYERS

PORT ELIZABETH, S. Africa (AP) — Local taxpayers have to pay more for water come rain or shine.

"If it rains a lot, and we do not need as much water for our gardens, the city council increases the water rate because taxpayers are not using enough water to finance the council's water account," says Neville Cohen, chairman of the local taxpayers association. "If it is dry, the council increases the water tariff to prevent taxpayers using too much water. How can the taxpayer win?"

The Security Council of the United Nations consists of 15 members, five with permanent seats.

Rental Of Classrooms Being Investigated In California

BELMONT, Calif. (AP) — A school district faced with declining enrollment wants to rent empty classrooms to pediatricians, dentists or hairdressers to avert the need of closing schools.

The idea flashed in his mind last month like a cartoon light bulb, said Superintendent Claude Turner, chief administrator for the seven-school, 3,400-pupil Belmont system 20 miles south of San Francisco.

He said he knows of no precedent for renting rooms in operating schools to private enterprise.

Falling enrollment confronts many school boards in California and in other parts of the nation. With it comes divisive decisions on which schools to close.

"My thought is that instead of having to decide what schools to close, why not, for instance, rent an empty classroom to a beauty parlor where mothers could have their hair done," Turner said.

He explained his idea to his school board, and the response was, "Bravo. Let's see what we can do."

But state law bars commercial use of school property and also restricts its use by other public agencies.

Turner has submitted proposals to educational foundations for a study to determine what legislative action would be necessary in developing a plan that could be tried in Belmont and perhaps become a model for other school systems.

"They are interested, but we have nothing nailed down yet," Turner said.

He said the Belmont district, serving a community of about 25,000, is two years away from a school closing decision. Two of the district's seven schools now have two empty classrooms each. He said enrollment declined by 100 from last year and would drop by another 150 next year.

Turner said reports of his plan generated inquiries about leasing school rooms from doctors, dentists and public agencies which want neighborhood offices.

COSTLY CONSTRUCTION

DETROIT (AP) — It takes a lot of money to change the face of a city.

The $200-million, long-term mortgage loan by four insurance companies to help build the first phase of Detroit's Renaissance Center is the largest amount ever floated for a single urban redevelopment project.

Another $200 million has been raised from a couple of dozen banks in various parts of the country for short-term construction needs, while some 50 "blue chip" companies, which form the Renaissance Center Partnership building the riverfront project, put up the $40-million down payment.

By the time the center is completed in 1983, another long-term mortgage that may exceed the present $200 million will be required for the privately financed development, according to its sponsors.

Scouts Launch Spirit Of '76 Theme In Fall

For the Nation's bicentennial, the Boy Scouts of America will launch a two-year program next fall with the national bicentennial theme, Spirit of '76.

Announcement of the bicentennial plans was made this month in connection with the 65th anniversary of the national youth movement by Ralph Waldo, Council President of the Four Rivers Council which serves the local area.

The Boy Scouts of America began its bicentennial observance in September 1973 with a year-round program based on Get Involved for Them (GIFT) and followed that with the current Be Prepared for Life: Be Safe, Be Fit program which ends next August.

Waldrup explained, "The 1975-77 program will include Heritage '76—a look at our history in science, culture, and politics to see where we, as a nation came from; Festival USA—to provide an opportunity for international understanding, exchange, and travel to celebrate our country's birthday; and Horizons '76—a look to the future with a program of involvement of our youth to help set the stage for the third century of the U.S.A."

The Scouting program calls for each Cub Scout pack, Scout troop, and Explorer post to select a bicentennial project or activity. Participants will be recognized with cloth patches or medals for all three areas of the program. There are over 100 Scouting units in this area with about 2,200 members.

The Scouting council is also cooperating with local community activities in celebrating the bicentennial.

A meeting of the Douglas Civic Improvement Club will be held tonight (Monday) at 7:30 at the Douglas Community Center. All members are asked to be present, a club spokesman said.

Terry Keith Alexander, left, is being presented his promotion to Aviation Ordnanceman Third Class by U. S. Navy Commander E. S. Promersberger. Manslaughter Conviction Raises Fears Within Medical Profession

BOSTON (AP) — The manslaughter conviction of Dr. Kenneth C. Edelin for the death of an aborted fetus has raised fears among some physicians of new restrictions on abortions.

"The verdict will send shock waves into the medical community," said William J. Curran, professor of legal medicine at Harvard.

"Within the next week it's just going to have shocking impact on physicians and others that are doing any procedures of this kind. It will have an effect all over the country," Curran said.

Edelin, 36, was convicted over the weekend for the death of a fetus during a legal abortion performed in October 1973 at Boston City Hospital.

In Boston, Edelin's conviction clears the way for prosecution of four physicians under an 1814 grave-robbing statute for experiments on aborted fetuses. Asst. Dist. Atty. Newman A. Flanagan said after the verdict that he would turn to the fetal experimentation case, in which indictments were returned last April.

Some doctors fear this case could interfere with research in fetal development and birth defects.

Edelin's trial, which involved complicated medical testimony about when life actually begins, aroused interest because of its implications in the battle over legalization of abortion.

On Sunday, a conference of becoming less dependent on public subsidies," said the spokesman. He explained that during the 12 years prior to postal reorganization in July 1971, subsidies averaged 17.7 per cent of income. In comparison, over the past three years, subsidies averaged 15.4 per cent of income, he said.

The last first-class postage rate increase, from 8 cents to 10 cents, took effect last March. If the rate for first class mail goes to 12 cents, it will have doubled since 1968.

Postal rates are set by a five-member Postal Rate Commission, which passes on rates proposed by the postal service. The postal service can increase rates on a temporary basis while the commission weighs requests for permanently higher rates.

Bailor predicted difficult negotiations with postal workers, whose contract runs out in July, but he said he hopes a strike can be avoided.

Asked if he would recommend calling out the National Guard in the event of a strike, Bailor replied: "I would recommend whatever was appropriate to help keep the commerce in the country on an even keel."

He also said that air mail postage probably will be eliminated in the near future within the United States because almost all first-class mail moves by air anyway.

The show, entitled "Daniel's Gift," was premiered on Sept. 23, 1974 to Soil Conservation Service leaders from all 50 states during a meeting in Lexington. Blending history, geography and the principles of conservation, the program chronicles the use—and occasional misuse—of Kentucky's natural resources since pioneer times.

The show is narrated by state conservationist Glen Murray and features two synchronized projectors. According to Murray, the program shows "some of our past mistakes, some of our successes and... why the presently accepted concept of natural resource conservation will serve to answer some of the difficult problems in the future."
